OPINIONS OF CONGRESSMEN.

A special telegram, of the 10th inst. to the New York Herald, gives the following opinions of Congressmen on the Electoral decision:

Townsend of Pennsylvania said-The vote is as it should be. It is a vindica-tion of the wisdom of creating the Commission.
Plaistead—How could any one expect a different result? Hubbell-It shows conclusively that we are entitled to build our hopes on justice and right, even with the approval of the Democracy.

The Republican Congressmen are jubilant over the report. On the Democratic side there were all shades of Buckner said he did not expect anything better.

Thomas of Maryland-It means that Hayes will be counted in.
House—Tilden, thou art so near and Hardenburg-Bradley is a great mathe-matician and if the problem is stated correctly for Tilden the majority will be on our side.

Jones of New Hampshire-We have agreed to abide by the decision of the Commission. What use is it to waste words about opinions? Hewitt—The report is filled with bit-terness for me, but I can't find a draught of sweetness in it.

Hurd-Expecting nothing, I am not

Hill of Georgia.—If the ruling is as reported, Oregon will surely save us.

Hopkins — It means Hayes and Wheeler.

Sayler—At this rate, my fellow-citizen,

Sayler—At this rate, my the Hayes will be counted in.
Blackburn—Never had any faith in the bill, but still have hope.
Cutler—Hadn't any reason to expect

Anderson—It is all over.
Whitthorne—I have been discouraged ever since I heard the first decision of the Commission.

Knott-I have not stopped to think about the subject ever since the bill passed the House. My eyes rest upon Louisiana as the hope of the country.

Canfield—If we do not get Louisiana and Oregon, acore 185 for Hayes.

Douglass—I wish I had voted against the bill

Lord-I think we have a strong chance in Louisiana.

Cox—O Lord, honey, let me alone!

Levy—What bave we to hope for now?

McMahon—The judicial character of the Commission is in our favor when Louisiana is reached.

S-nator Jones of Florida—The result is not what I expected and I don't know what to say about it.

Morrison -Hope is the mainspring of life; why should we mourn?

Sparks-It looks as though the report that the Commission is governed by partisan sentiment is true. Mills-This changing of the leaders suited me. I voted against the bill.

Durham—My vote against the bill is the best vindication of my action. Kehr—I am bound to accept the decision, and, as such, am prepared to say

Rice of Obio-Where did the chances of Tilden appear better than in Florida?

CURIOUS SILVER MINE.-The Silver Islet vein is on a small bare rock of little over one-eight of an acre area, in Lake Superior, near its north shore. It has been worked for six years, about $2,500, 000 of silver having been taken from it. As the reck was low, its surface washed As the reck was low, its surface washed by the waves in every storm, there was need to protect the shaft sunk upon the vein from the waters which might fill the mine and drown the miners. Accordingly artificial walls were built around a wooden crib work filled with thousands of tons of rock. The present depth of the mine is about 650 feet, with 500 feet of lateral workings. No silver oepin of the mine is about 630 feet, with 500 feet of lateral workings. No silver has been found in the vein except in parts where traces of plumbago appeared. This mineral is found in modules and blackens the hand when rabbed on the the smooth walls of the vein. As often as the appearance of plumbago ceased the silver disappeared. Wherever the appearance of plumbago was resumed silver was found in the veia. The mine is not at present yielding as formerly, but it is said there is no reason why ailver may not be extracted from it to as great an extent as has already been taken out. [S. F. Steel Parest

An old Comstocker, being reproached by his prospective mother-iu-law that he was much too old for her daughter, and that he was even bald-headed, replied: "Madam, my baldness is no in-dication of age—it runs in the family. RUBY HILL SHOOTING AFFRAY.

We learn by the Sentinel of the 10th inst. that a shooting affray occurred at Ruby Hill on the 9th between one Hugh Kelley and Jimmy Tickel. The quarrel originated between a man by the name of Madron and Kelley over a game of cards at Frank Smith's saloon, and after playing for some time a dignets areas playing for some time a dispute arose between them about four beans, valued at 2½ cents each, during which high words passed between the two men, and at the suggestion of Kelley the difficulty was to be settled by a fist fight out in the street, where they proceeded to. At this juncture Jimmy Tickel, a miner employed in the Eureka Consolidated mine, came along and spoke to Madron about the folly of engaging in a street fight with the man Kelley.

This interference by Tickel was considered unwarranted by Kelley, who proposed to give him a game. As to what playing for some time a dispute arose posed to give him agame. As to what followed there are several versions, but it appears that Kelly then pulled a min-er's candlestick from his pocket and oballenged anybody to fight, saying he was not afraid of any man, and would fight Tickel anyway he wished. The latter did not seem to care much about let-ting a fight go by default, and picking up a hammer-bandle said he would fight Kelly, candlestick and all. No blows were exchanged, however, and both men were exchanged, however, and both men started off in the direction of Nick Wer-ry's saloon and lodging house, where they each slept. As Kelly passed Nick Werry, who was standing in front of his house, he was asked by him who he had been "rowing" with, but received an unintelligible reply to the inquiry, and Kel-ley passed on through the saloon to the stairs at the end of the building, which led to the sleeping apartment of the house. Tickel followed Kelly in and went up stairs, having one hand in his coat pocket. Both men went up stairs, and a few seconds afterwards the report of a pistol was heard, and a noise as if some one had fallen beavily on the floor. A rush was made up the stairs and Kelley was found with a wound near the wind-pipe. He was taken to his room and messengers were dispatched after a physician, and Father Monteverde, the priest. Dr. A. C. Bishop soon arrived, and on examining the wound found that the ball had entered the body at the edge of the sternum, cutting the esophagus and had lodged somewhere in the muscles of the back. The character of the wound prevented probing for the ball. Bishop considers the wound a fatal one. Tickel started to give himself up, but on the road was arrested by the citizens and lodged in jail. Tickel claims to have acted in self-defence.

THE TWO MEN.

Hugh Kelly, the man shot, is well-known in Eureka, having worked in the mines on Ruby Hill for years. When sober he is a quiet, peacable man, but in liquor he is regarded as a dangerous man, picking a quarrel with any one on the Jimmy Tickel has been in that vicinity a little over a year, and for some months worked in the Pancake coal mine. A few weeks since he was to have had a room fight with a man named Davis, but which never came off. Davis was killed in Elko last month. Lately he has been working in the Eureka Consolidated mine, and formerly in the Richmond.

He came here from Virginia City.
According to the latest accounts from Eureka Kelly was not dead, although there are very little hopes of his recovery.

physical and mental constitution-than poverty and neglect. The slave woman at her task will live and grow old, and will see two or three generations of her mistress pass away. The washerwoman, with scarce a ray of hope to cheer her in the toil, will live to see her fashionable sisters die all around her. The kitchen maid is hearty and strong when her mis-tress has to be nursed like a sick baby. It is a sad truth that the fashion pampered women are almost worthless for all the ends of human life. They have but little force of character. They have less power of moral will, and we might say quite as little of physical energy.
They live for no great purpose in life;
they accompits no worthy ends. They are only doll-forms in the hands of milare only doll-forms in the hands of mil-liners and servants, to be dressed and fed to order. They help nobody and they save nobody. They write no books, they set no rich example of virtue and of womanly life. It they rear children, servants and nurses do all save to con-ceive and give them birth. And when reared, what are they? What do they amount to but weak scions of the old stock? Who ever heard of a fashionable woman's child exhibiting any virtue or woman's child exhibiting any virtue or power of mind for which he became sui-nent? Read the biographies of our great and good men and women. Not one of them had a fashiocable mother. They nearly all had spruog up from strong-minded women, who had as little to do with fashion as the changing clouds.—

An ink-stand was turned over upon a white tablecloth; a servant threw over it a mixture of salt and papper, and all traces of it disappeared. Make a note of Mortgage on the Sutro Tannel.

The Sutro Tunnel Company has exe-cuted a mortgage to Robert McCalmont, Hugh McCalmont and Willim Johnstone Newsil, of Loudon, England, covering all the property, franchises and improve-ments of the company, to secure a loan from the mortgagees to the company of $124,321.10 already made and further advances to be made in the future. The loaning parties comprise the firm of Mc-Calmont Brothers & Co., merchants, of Philpot Lane, Londan, and the mort-Philpot Lane, Londan, and the mort-gage stipulates that they, or any of them or person or persons who shall succeed them, may lend the company any fur ther sums of money that may be re-quired "in completing the said tunnel and works, or working and carrying on the business thereof, or in paying off any incumbrance or charge thereon, together with interest on the several moneys aforesaid at the rate of twelve moneys aforesaid at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum from the first day of January, 1879, with respect to moneys advanced before that day and from the respective days of loan, ad-vance or payment of moneys loaned or advanced after that day, such interest to continue on the amount from time to time owing until complete repayment by the said company, and to be paid in by the said company, and to be paid in half-yearly payments, on the first of January and the first of July on each year, the first payment to be made on the first of July, 1879."

The mortgage was placed on record in the Recorder's office, Storey county, on Wednesday, February 7, 1877.—[Virg. Harrington, the man who was to have been hung on the 9th of February at Virginia City, but a stay of proceed-ings having been granted, his life will be spared a little longer, is credited with doing a great many smart things in his life. He is said to be one of the smartest criminals ever arrested in the State, and unless the officers keep a sharp watch upon his actions he may yet escape. In regard to his ingenuity we give an ex-tract from the Chronicie relative to a trick he attempted while an inmate of the prison at Carson. About two years since he was working in the bootmaker's de-partment, and succeeded in manufacturing a boot which he must have expected would be of considerable use to him on future occasions. In the shank was a hollow space, in which he inserted a fine saw and file, both of which had evidently saw and file, both of which had evidently been used, for one morning the Warden happening to strike his hand against one of the bolts of the cell, found that the head came off, being nothing but war. Harrington had cut away the heads of several boits and made a good imitation in wax, which he covered with lampblack to give them the appearance of iron. When an opportunity of escape presented itself he expected to drive the bolt out and then make his exit, probably wearing the same boots in which he ably wearing the same boots in which he had so deftly concealed the file and saw. The plot having been discovered he was removed to another cell, and the boots which excited suspicion on account of their appearance, were ripped open.

THE "GOBBLE" DISPATOR .- DETROIT, Migh., February 6.-The Tribune will contain to-morrow morning a perfect translation of the famous "gobble" cipher dispatch sent to Tilden from Portland, Oregon, December 1st, as follows: "I shall decide every point in the case of the Postoffice Elector in favor of the highest Democratic Elector. and grant a certificate accordingly." A copy of a peculiar pocket edition of an English dictionary was used, and the Tribune states that it has good reason Fashion kills more women than toil and sorrow. Obedience to fashion is a greater transgression of the laws of woman's nature—a greater injury to her imported, and the particular time, and in whose possession it was. The Tribun. took the dictionary and translated the cipher word by word, as above given, according to the key furnished.
